SPEAKING ONE’S PIECE
Developing Personal Aptitudes in Public Speaking

Wednesday, April 1 from 7-9 p.m. | The Wells Library, Room E174

Don’t miss this interactive workshop presented by Christopher Gilbert, an experienced instructor currently teaching at Butler University. Come prepared to learn new skills that will improve all your speeches and class presentations. Bring ideas and topics to discuss so you can get personalized feedback and tips. Four students will be chosen (on a first-come, first-served basis) to share their topic with the group and get expert advice from the instructor. If you are interested, please arrive early to sign up. This two-hour session will be divided into three segments:

- Discussion about forms of public speaking, with an emphasis on how to get comfortable and prepared to speak in front of others
- Four student topic presentations (15 minutes each)
- General discussion and an opportunity for anyone who wants to practice a speech and receive feedback from the instructor (based on time available)

Mr. Gilbert is a regular presenter of our public-speaking workshops, and we are excited to welcome him back.

Please register in iStart by Tuesday, March 31.

Let’s get social! @iu_ois /IU/ois /iu_ois